Instructions:

You filed a 2023 joint income tax return and this income was used in your FAFSA application for the calculation of your Student Aid Index. At the time the FAFSA was completed you were separated, divorced, widowed, or married to someone other than the individual included on the 2023 joint income tax return. With these special cases we are required to separate out your portion of the tax information provided on the joint income tax return to calculate and assess your individual AGI and Taxes Paid.

Please review the tax line items listed below and select the correct box for who the owner of the tax line item belongs to. If the tax line item does not belong to a specific tax filer, or is not split 50/50, then please provide a specific dollar amount of how the income is allocated between the two tax filers.
